Spirit Is A Major Part Of Uni's Experience

National Lampoon's recent hit movie Animal House started a toga party craze among high schools and colleges—Uni was not to be left out of the fun and had its own festival, complete with grapes, sandals and lots of "Romans" decked out in their best bedsheet togas. Another craze which swept Uni started with the movie Grease, which got all the students bouncing along to the Bunny Hop (a 1950's fad dance). Pigtails, greased back ducktail haircuts and bobby sox completed the scene. All this spirit poured over into the WAC sales. Despite a three dollar increase, 800 of the activity cards were sold, nearly twice as many as last year.

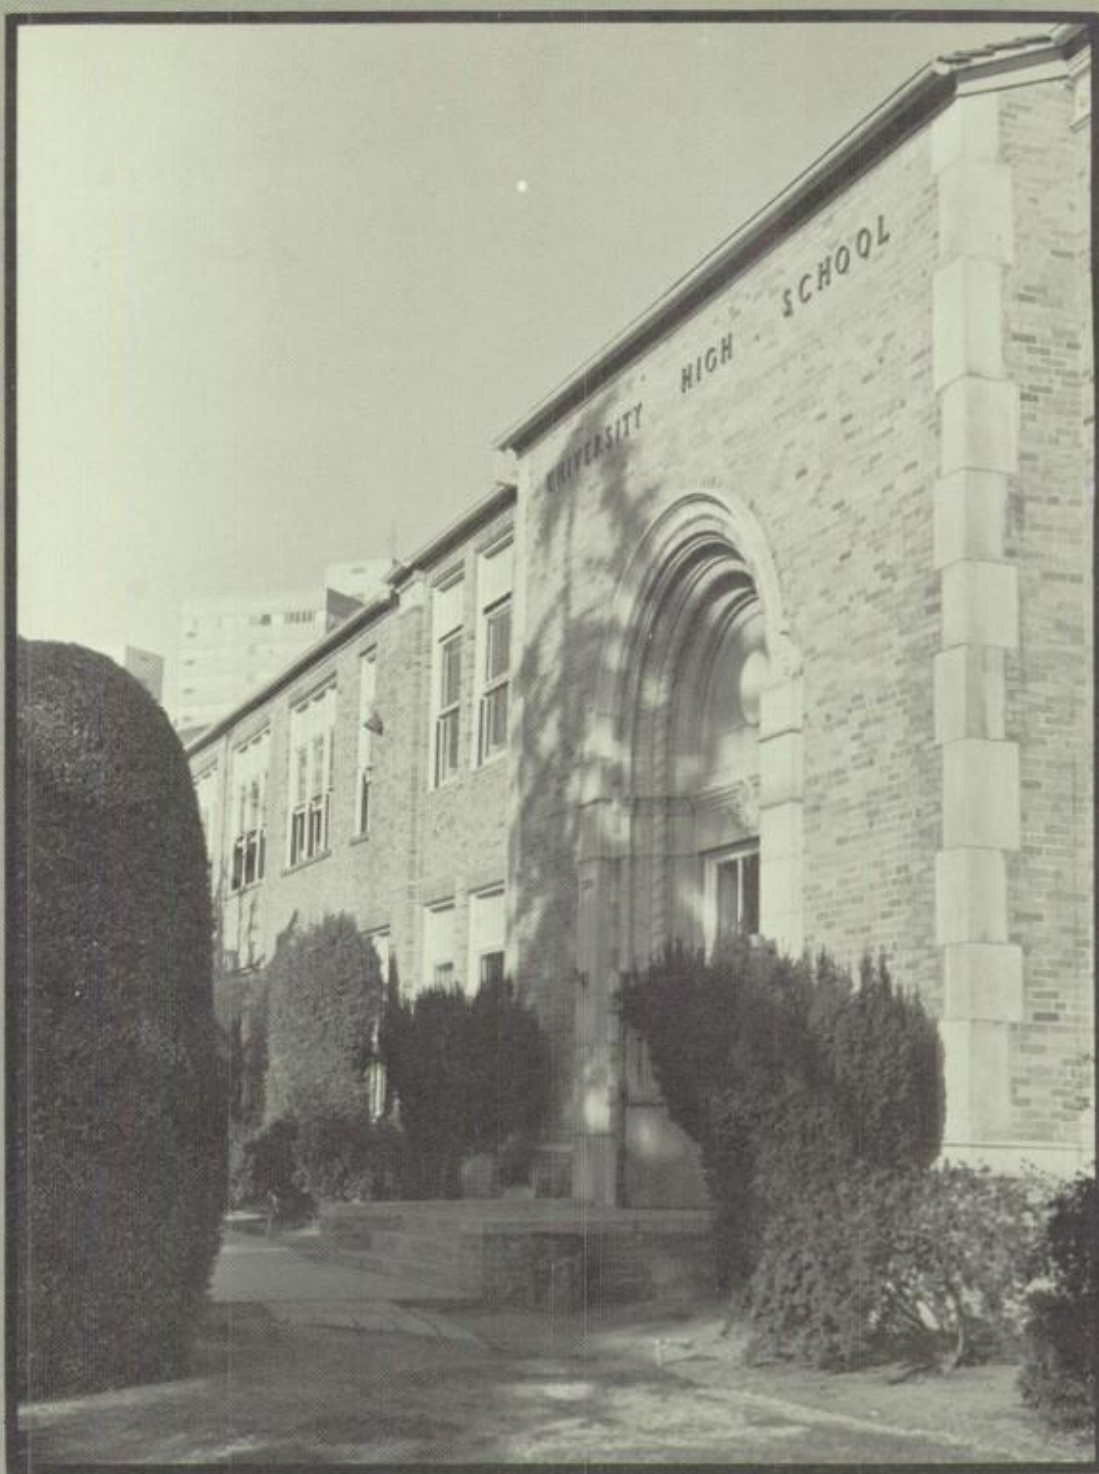

FITTING THE

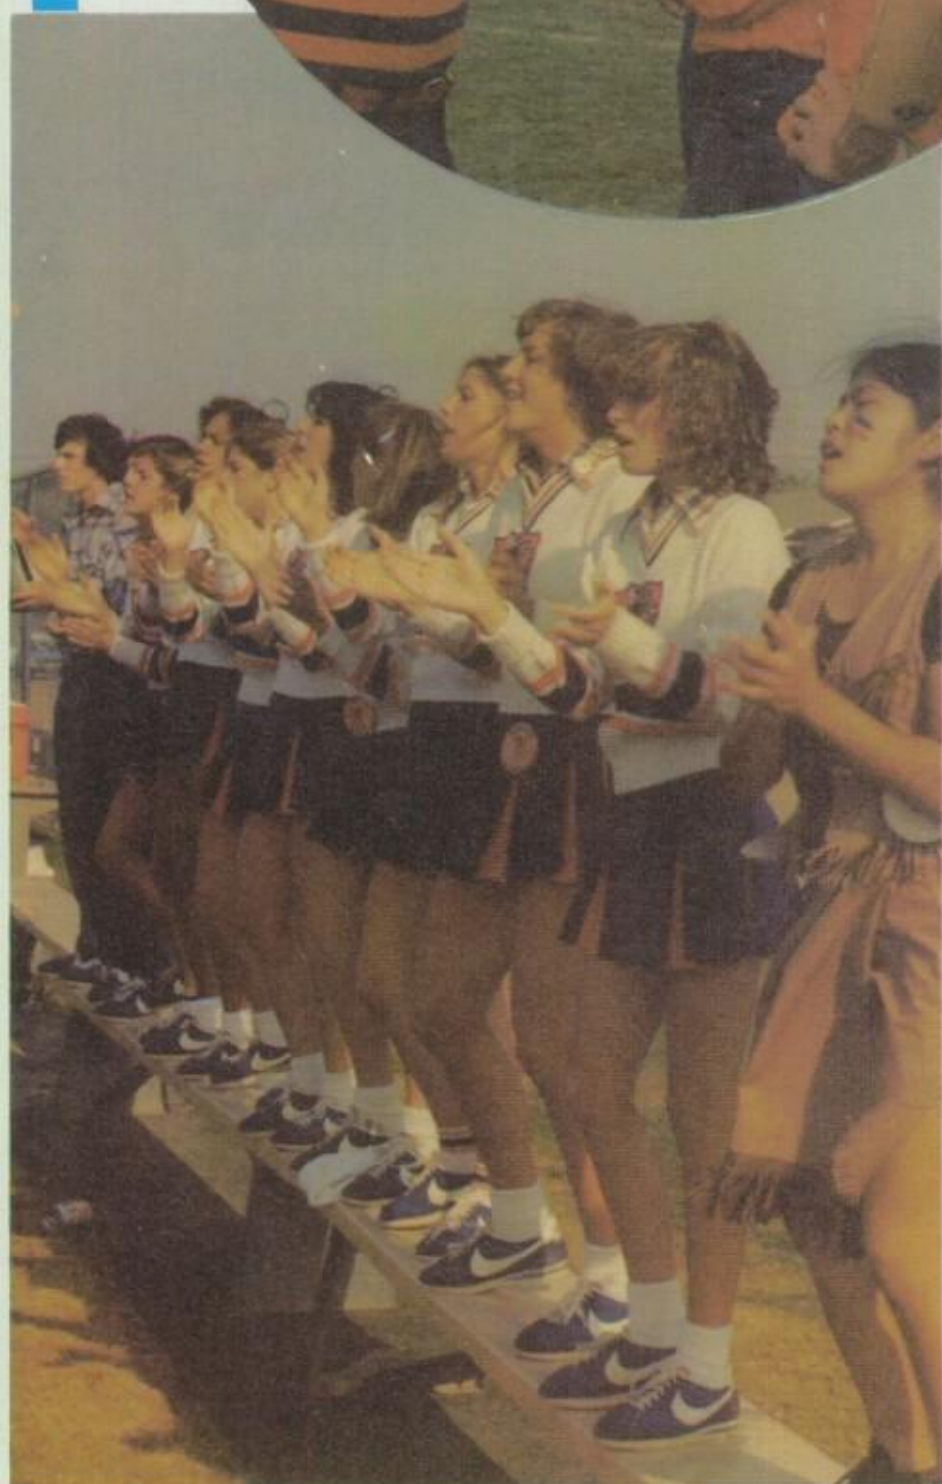

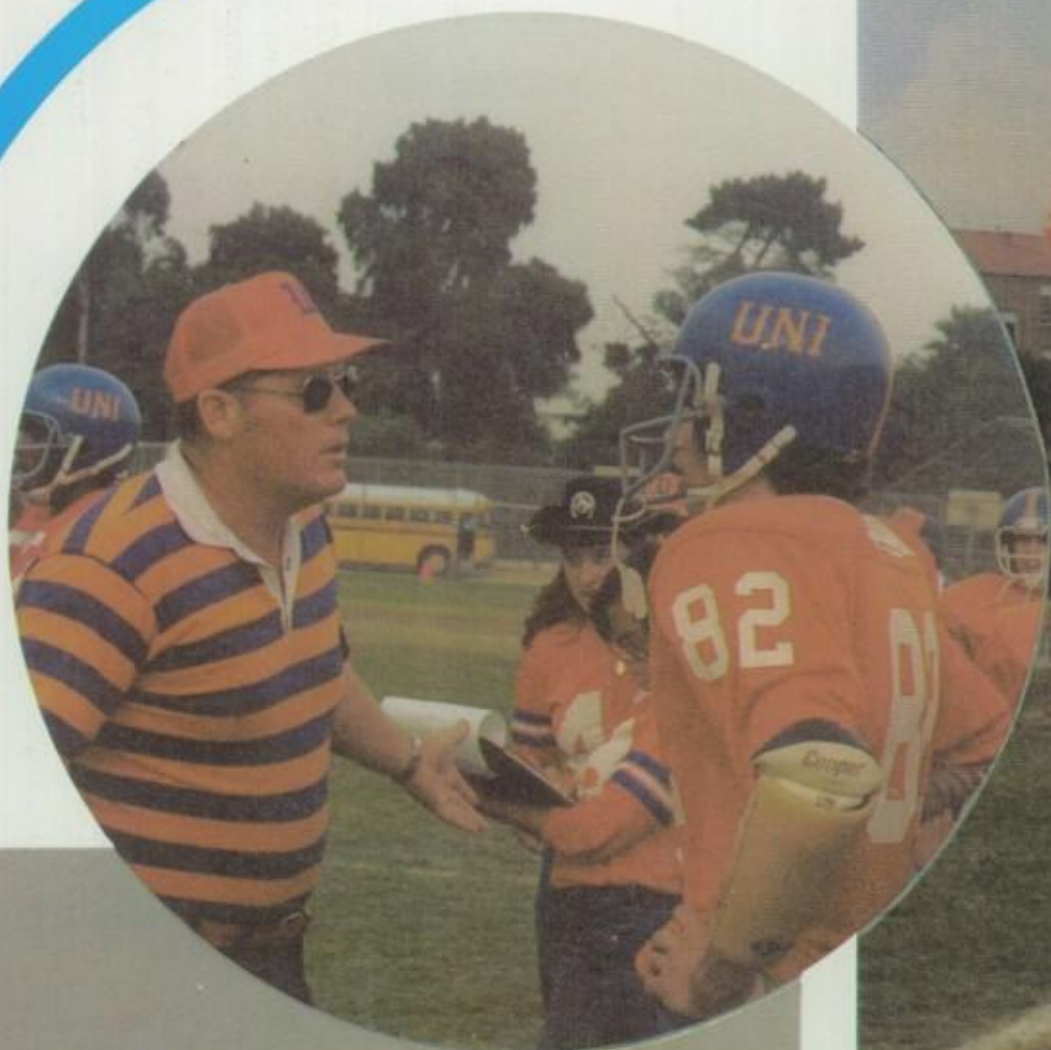

OLD AND NEW

We have seen a rapid change in our school since the plans to start construction were approved in February of 1976. Over four and a half million dollars were spent in building a new auditorium, gymnasium, cafeteria, horticulture area and shop classrooms. Many inconveniences were suffered by students and teachers alike during this time. For three years boys in P.E. classes have had to carry their gym clothes to and from the south bungalows. And learning how to speak French is made much more difficult when a jackhammer is pounding away in the distance. If the new buildings serve as many students as the administration building has in its fifty years, the money will be well spent and the annoyance easily forgotten.

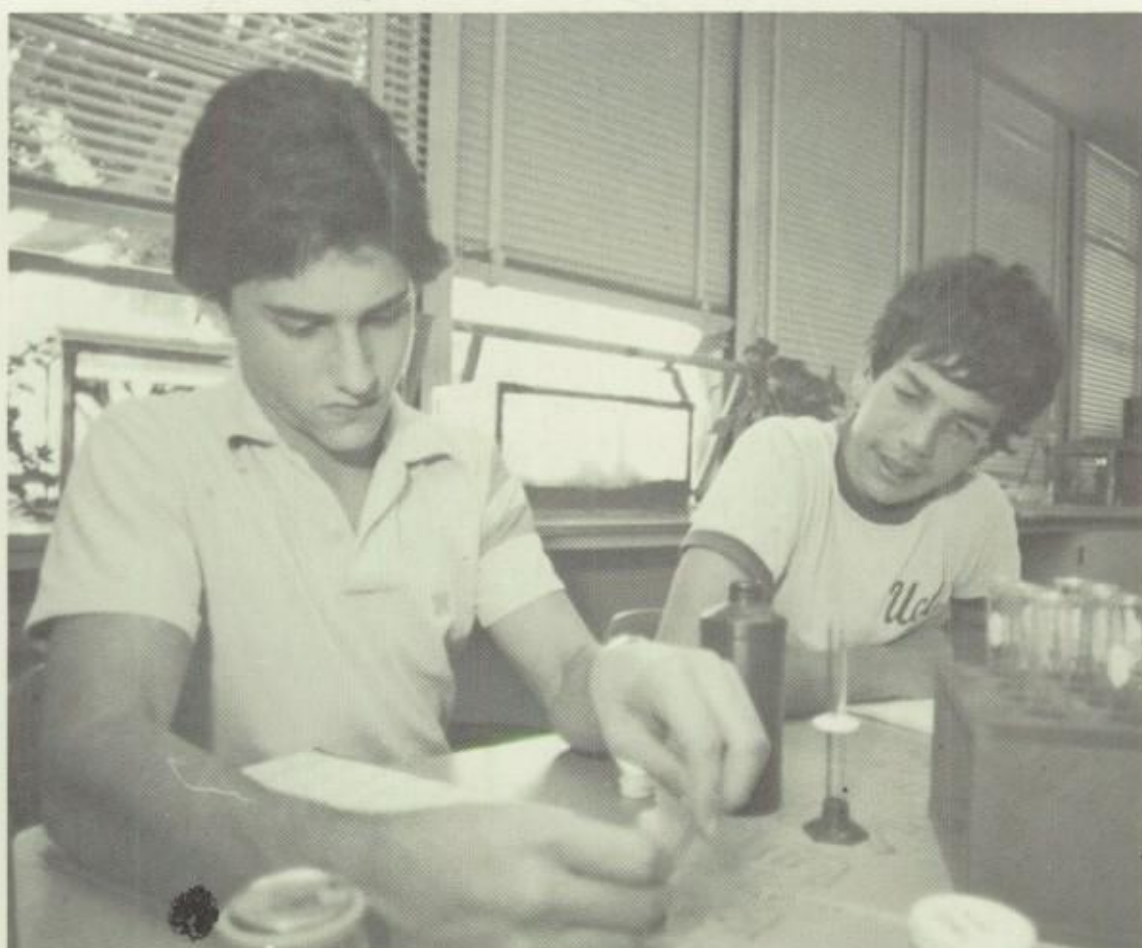

A Piece Of The Action

The Class Rooms: Bringing It All Together

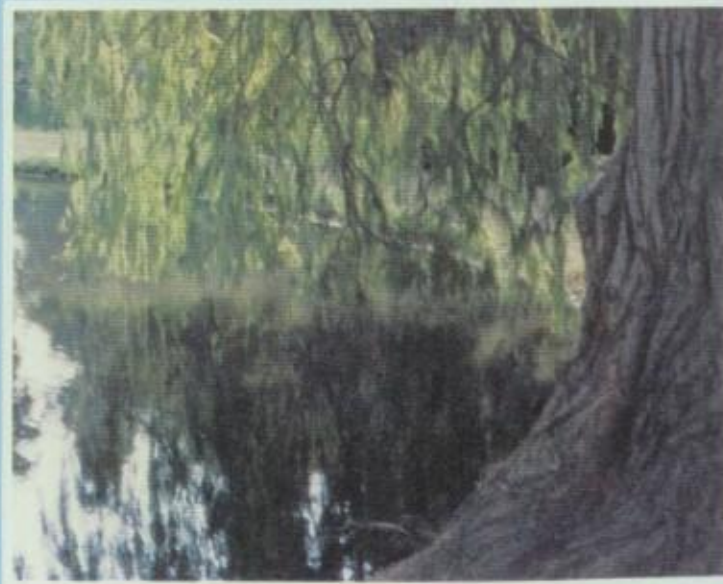

A school the size of Uni allows a student a vast number of pieces with which to assemble his own educational composite. The typical student might begin his day dissecting frogs in biology, race down to the new gym for second period weight training, clamber up the ancient stairs of the ad building to a typing class, build up an appetite for lunch with a vigorous debate in government class and cap his day off with a fine bit of practical training in an ROP class off campus at an auto body repair facility.

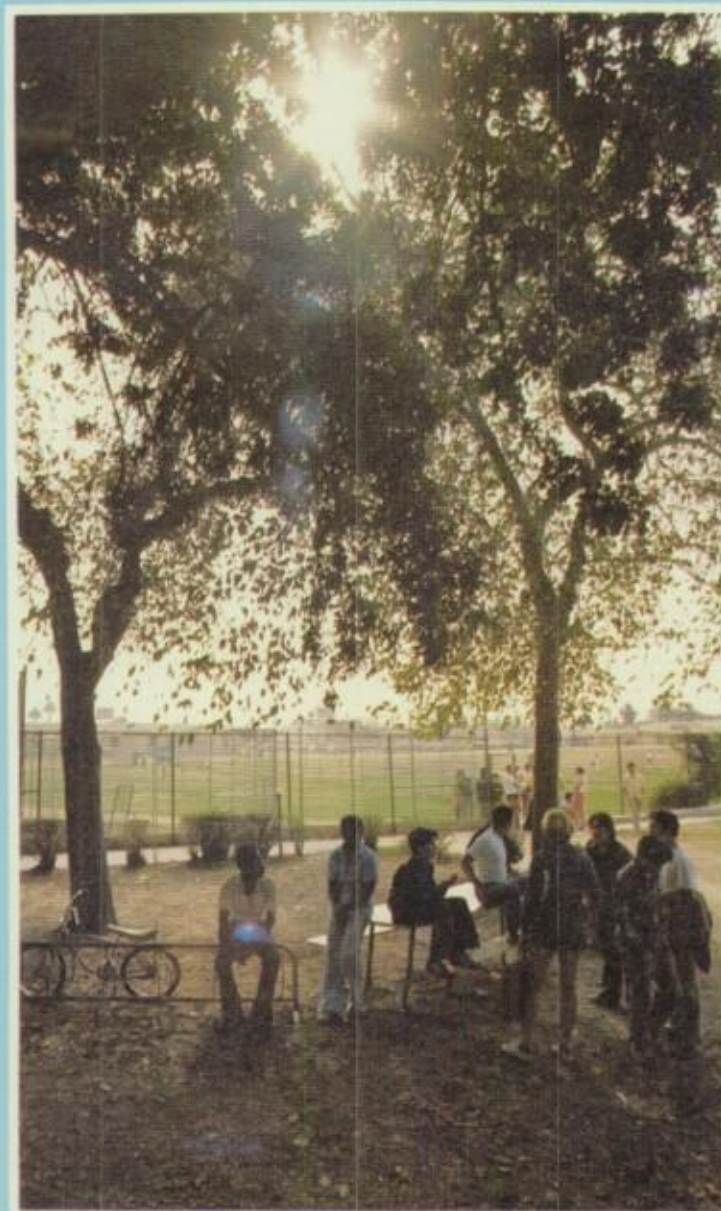

Nature, Piece By Piece . . .

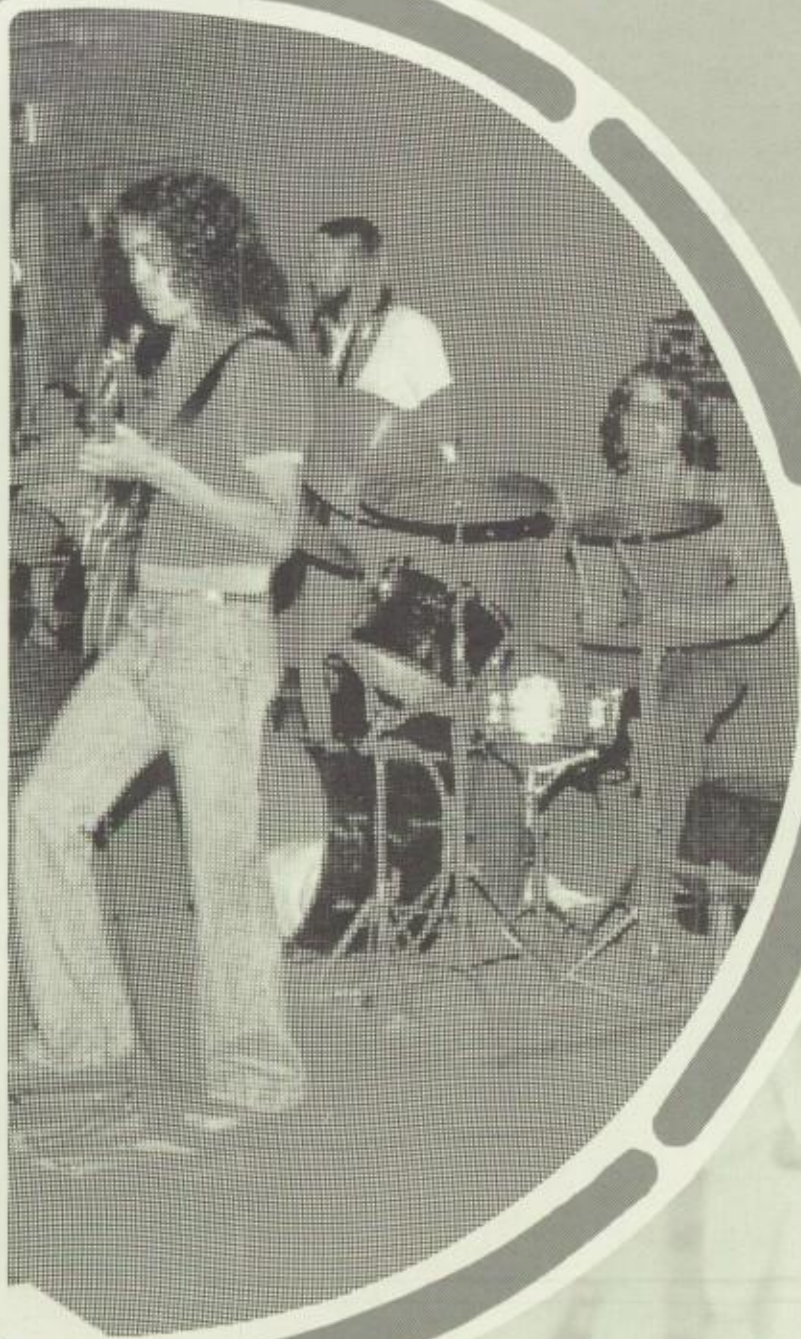

Forms Something Special

University High is not only filled with tardy bells, rushing people, and buildings with classrooms. There is something special growing all around: plants blooming into maturity, and everything moving into many changes. People at Uni are also changing, growing, and maturing into special individuals. So piece by piece nature . . . forms something special.

ACTIVITIES

"That's Hollywood!"

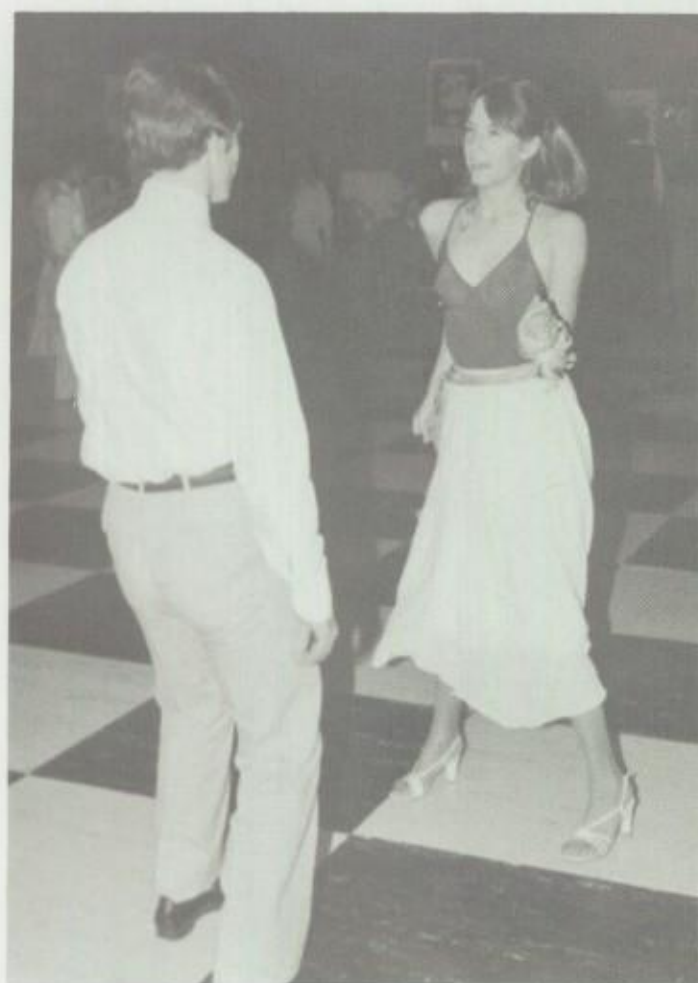

UNI HOMECOMING 78

On November 3rd, 7:30 p.m., our annual celebration of Homecoming was held at Venice High. It was a great success because the students were looking forward to the event; over 800 spirited students attended. The preparation of floats, began well over a month before the parade. Also, our very first sales of Homecoming buttons aroused the interest of the students since over 1,500 were sold. Based on the Homecoming theme "That's Hollywood", the floats of 17 different clubs and organizations joined along in the parade. First place for the float competition was won by the Korean Youth Club's creation "The King and I", 2nd place went to the Music Dept's work "Music Doth Soothe the Savage Beast", and taking 3rd place was Drama's version of "Grease". During half-time while the band and drill team marched on, colorful balloons were sent soaring into the sky and $275 worth of fireworks were sent into multitudes of colors. To add to the climax, the Homecoming court was then announced. The night was wrapped up by both Varsity and the Bee Uni Warriors winning a glorious victory over the Hamilton Yankees. The Bee's scored 21-16 and Varsity scored 14-0.

Homecoming Dance & Court

The Homecoming dance on Nov. 4th marked the first since 1975 that Uni celebrated their Homecoming on the school grounds. Two things made this year's Homecoming special: Uni's victory over Hami for the Varsity and Bee teams, and the long awaited opening of the new gym. The enthusiasm of the students was shown by an overwhelming sellout of $4000 worth of tickets. "That's Hollywood", the theme for this year's Homecoming dance correlated with Hollywood movie posters and a disco dance floor which decorated the gym.

During the dance, the Homecoming court was presented to the student body with roses and carnations. After the applause subsided, the court had been led into a spotlight dance by the King and Queen, Bob Doak and Tracy Garell, followed by Prince and Princess, Allen Astin and Missy Walkes. Then to follow were the eleventh grade princes and princess, Damon Farmar, Alan Washington and Jill Beber, and finally the Tenth Grade Prince and Princess, Andy Lauer and Debbie Lakin. As the last song "Boogie Oogie" played, the night ended in a overall success.

Fall Student Government

The overwhelming enthusiasm of Fall Student Government, solicited all the spirit and energies of UNI HIGH students. With successful participation, the "50's" dance was a smash. The school was filled with Greasers in leather jackets, ponytails and bobby socks. "TOGA-TOGA-TOGA", was an Animal House craze. Uni's attire consisted of togas made from floral pastels or Budweiser sheets. What, is in store for Uni, next?

School Spirit in action means Toga Day, Western Day, and 50's Day. During a "Grease" review the Cheerleaders and Football Players did dances to "Splish Splash, Greased Lightning and Summer Nights." The Cheerleader's Pep Rallies helped coax the crowd to attend football games and Leadership activities such as a 50's dance. High excitement reigned over the dance as K-UNI's fog machine blew out a gray haze which lingered in the air, waist high.

Frisbees Are Flying

The "frisbee craze" is becoming a fast-growing sport, and our Uni frisbee club proves this. They play a game known as Ultimate Frisbee. Each team has seven players on a 100 yard field divided into a forty yard playing zone with two thirty yard end zones. This game is similar to soccer, and the ultimate goal is to score by passing the frisbee to a player in the end zone.

Numbers Add + Up

Can you imagine demonstrating the solution of a math problem in an auditorium before a few hundred students from schools all over California? These math geniuses gather to participate in the big competition in March at Oxidental College. The Chalk Talk is among many contests that our Math Team involves itself in. Leap Frog takes two players, they each get a test and given a certain time, they switch papers half way through, then finish each others tests. Be watching for the team in their new uniform T-shirts and congratulate them for being sixth in the Bay League, which has 21 members.

Earthquake Aftershake

The show that would have been appropriate for this year's drama production would have been Promises, Promises. All year, Mr. Lomeli's crew had been waiting to occupy their new theatre in the cafeteria building. To christen the new facility, they put together Shakin', a review of all the shows that had been done at Paul Revere since the '71 earthquake closed the old aud. As the months dragged on and the deadlines for occupying the new theatre were extended again and again, they put on their troupers' grins and headed once again for Paul Revere. The appearance of Batman and Robin (or two local impersonators) announced the event to a delighted noontime crowd. Before projections of the music of the eight shows, the cast put on a rousing series of highlights and looked forward to the possibility of breaking in their long awaited little theatre with a fully staged version of Oklahoma!

The music department is noted for its wide range of involvement in school activities. At Homecoming their float and theme won second place. A band member, disguised as a gorilla, sat in a rocking chair under a dove inhabited tree. He was listening to an old fashioned phonograph which had paper mache' notes hanging from it. Their theme definitely describes the tone that plays throughout Uni. "Music doth soothe the savage beast!"

Halloween—Noontime Horrors

Uni is a school with it's own style. Anyone can tell by the way Halloween Day was put together. There were weird activities like the Mummy Wrap and Apple Bobbing. The Mummy wrap was a race to see who could wrap toilet paper from the person's head to toe first. However, there was one catch, the person being wrapped had to hold up all the toilet paper by his mouth. The first person completely submerged in toilet paper is the winner, and the winner was Tracy Garell. There were other big activities like Pumpkin Decorating, which was won by John Acker and Rob Mc Cullach. The Best Costume was won by Mike Lawshe, and the best group costume was won by Katja Chironis, Jeff Diamond and Marijane Horrigan. To raise money for the Student Body Fund, Candy Grams were sold for 15¢, which came to a total sum of $25. Halloween Day was an activity put together by students with style: Cindy Weiner, Jenny Gilbert, Michelle Levin, Alison Levin and Jimmy Siltan

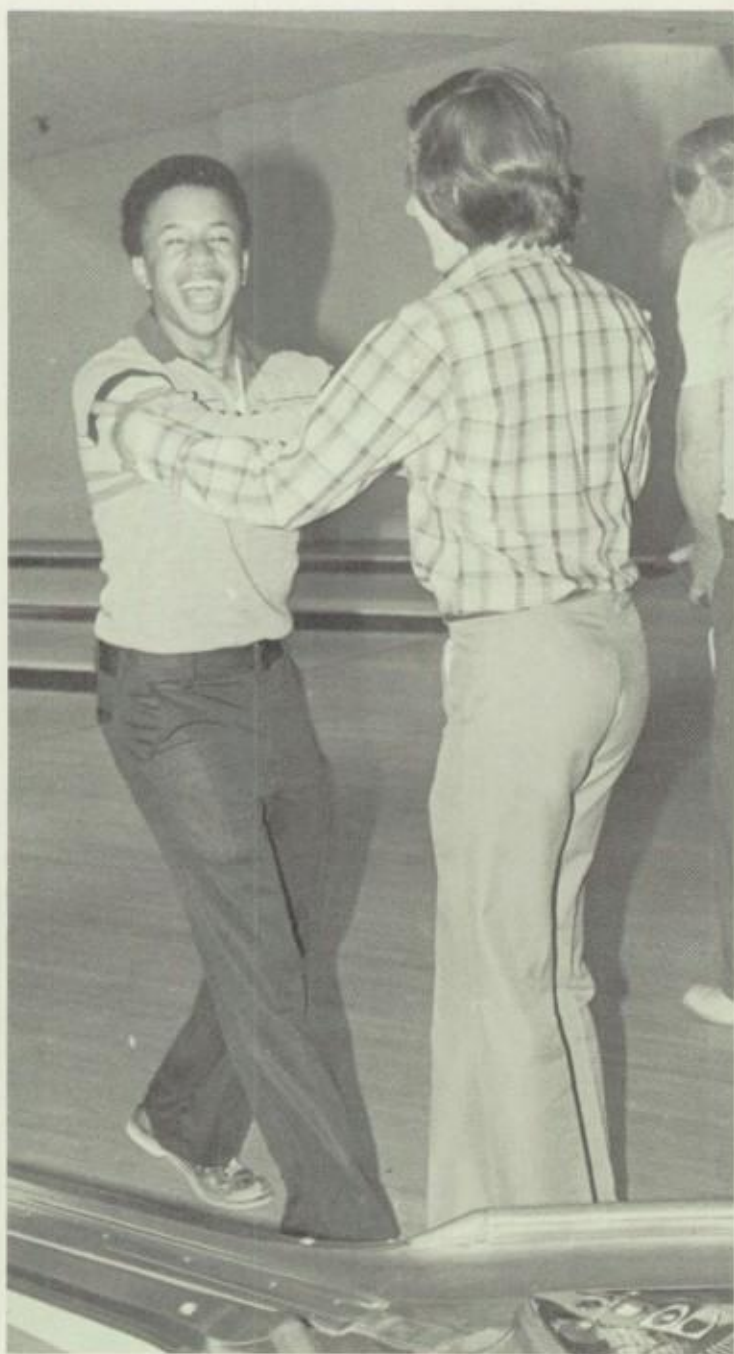

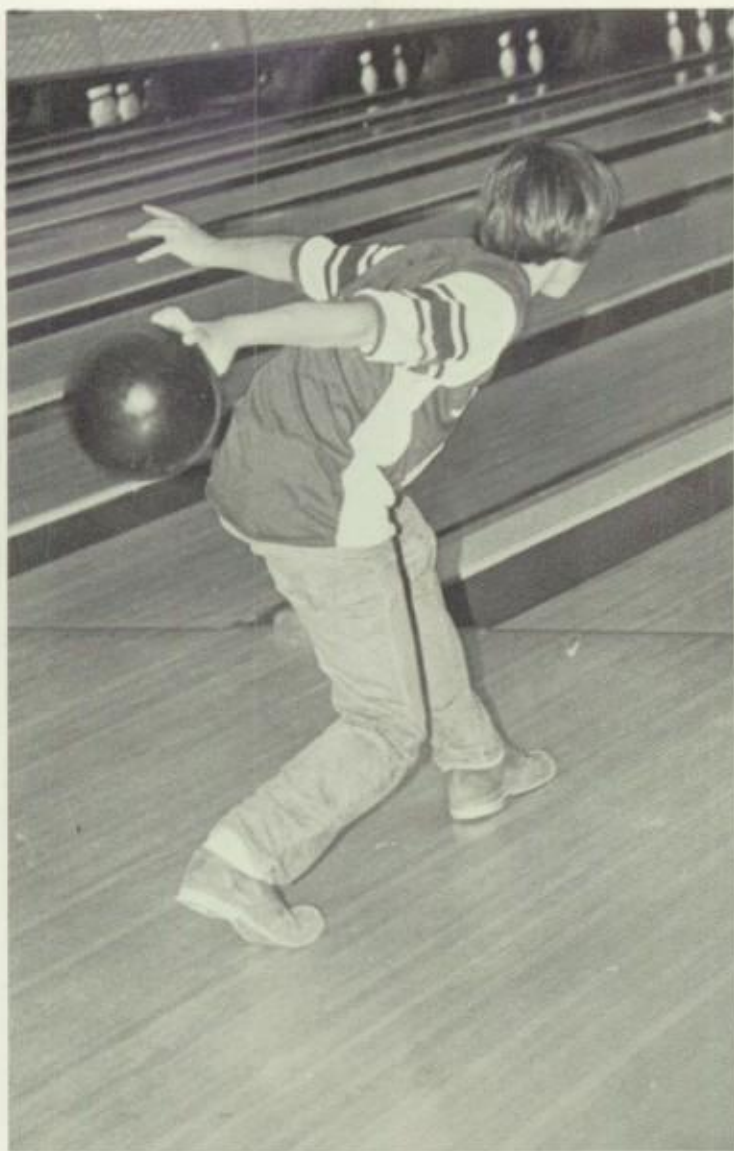

Leadership On The Road

Uni's Leadership class does not stop at the school gate. Our student leaders join with those from other schools and share solutions to common problems. At one such conference Uni's Jimmy Siltan chaired an enthusiastic group of Area 4 student officers. On the Presbyterian Conference Grounds near Palisades High, Jimmy led a Uni contingent that included Dafna Wu, David Kim, Karen Gichtin, Lucy Denny and Susie Stengel. The Unigroup hosted the affair attended by junior and senior high representatives. Communication exercises and brainstorming sharpened leadership skills. Mrs. Eileen Banta, faculty moderator was pleased to stand back and see the students run their own show.

Spring Fever Dance

When springtime arrives, with it comes spring fever. Among the symptoms are stirrings of love and romance. And what better way to treat this malady than to have a dance: the Spring Fever dance.

Some four hundred and fifty people turned out for this exciting event. The band, Night Construction, rocked and discoed Uni's new gym, nicely decorated in the romantic European mode. Everybody thought that the Spring fever dance was a huge success.

Hat Day

Even in pouring rain, Uni students are most often seen bareheaded, their hair hanging down in damp strings. Maybe that's why Hat Day was a big success. It offered them the chance to take on a whole new look.

Field Day

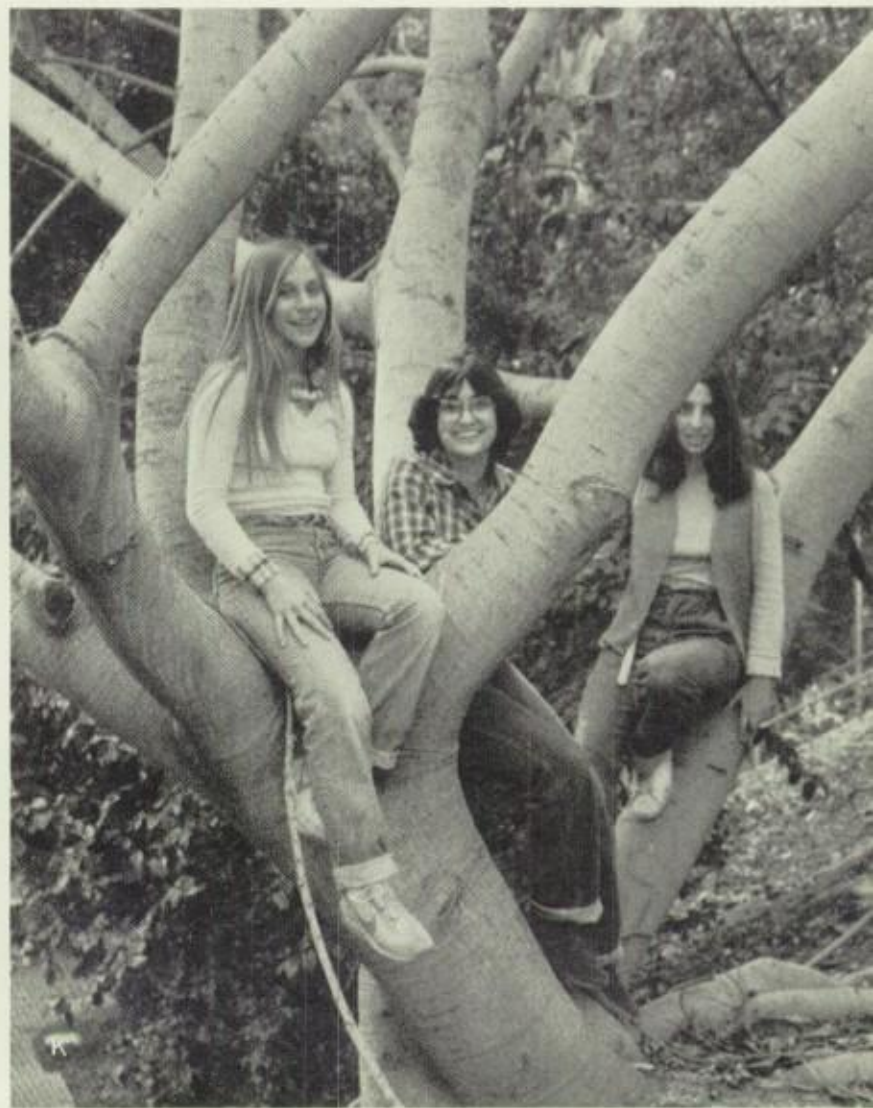

The idea of Field Day, (Battle of the Classes) was finally pulled off of the drawing board and thrown into action thanks to the valiant efforts of David Eum and Mike Binder, after the activity had been shelved since the spring of '78. Finally on March 20, 1979, after the activity had been cancelled twice because of rain, "Battle of the Classes" became a reality and a great success. The spirited 10th grade placed first, the strong willed 11th grade came in second, and the tired seniors were dead last.

Living Next To Nature

Despite the bombed out look that our campus has taken on because of the building program, there remain numerous beauty spots, many of which go unnoticed only a few feet from main traffic patterns. For over fifty years the campus' original landscaping has been thriving so that if one takes the trouble to find them, he can step into settings that one would expect to find in a national park. How many of these pictured locations can you identify? Check your answers at the bottom of the opposing page.

Seniors Frolic, Then Feast

Never has the school been so thoroughly (if not artistically) decorated as for the annual Senior Breakfast. The conscientious although unofficial decorating crew showed up in the dead of night and festooned every tree, railing, pole or whatever with the modern replacement for crepe paper. The volunteers go unrecognized except for those who were apprehended by the police, informed by neighbors that there seemed to be a rock concert going on at the Uni campus. The event itself was certainly no anti-climax. Over eighty winners paraded to the podium to receive the sash designating them best or most something. The festivities, which formally began at 7:30am continued through first period, and some seniors even made it to second period homeroom before collapsing from the effort.

To Get Where You've Got To, Today

The Next Step

Before a senior leaves the friendly protection of Uni High to go out into that strange world out there, the strange world does its best to make itself more familiar. During any given week, a senior can meet with a number of college and career advisors. Even East Coast institutions arrive, so no one need fear the unknown—all can be uncovered.

Compiling a one-game winning streak, Uni's varsity football team had a less-than-par season with a 1-4 record in league games. The only bright spot of the season was during Uni's triumph over Hamilton in the homecoming game in which they shutout the Yankees 14-0. Next year, city football will be changed as new league alignments will be made. As this happens, Uni moves to the 2-A division where they will face weaker opponents and maybe a winning season.

This year's junior varsity squad had little to cheer about. Starting the season against Manual Arts with a forfeit and ending it with a cancelation against Crenshaw pretty well framed the disappointing year appropriately. High point of the year came against Venice, when the junior gridders came just four points shy of upsetting their local opponents. Standing out above the difficulties was the play of Tracy Leyva, who will be moving up to the varsity next year. Coach Cisco's hopes for next year rest on added experience, something greatly lacking during this campaign.

This fall Uni's BEE Homecoming game against the Hamilton Yankees was a 21-16 Uni victory. Homecoming is always a spirit lifter and this year was no exception. Despite Uni's discouraging 1-9 record, the games were well attended and spirits remained high. Uni football has always maintained a reputation for being hardfought and sportsmanlike, which is really the name of the game.

Crossing The Country One Step

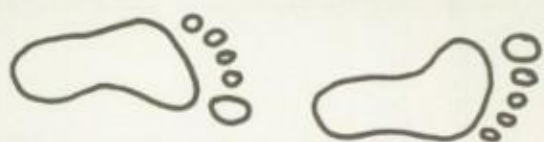

Varsity

Led by senior Paul Medvin, the always contending varsity cross country team completed a fine season by battling through tough league competition all the way to the city finals. The squad, whose only league loss came at the hands of Venice, was also paced by Steve Schuman. With these senior standouts completing their prep careers, underclassmen Pat Mizrahi and Elliot Ganezer have the experience to lead next year's team to greater triumphs.

In only their second year of competition, the girls' cross-country team finished fifth in the city. Heidi Howell, star runner in her first year, paced the Warriors to the semi-finals. Tenth grade cross-country reached the semi-finals with the help of Todd Elder before they succumbed. Coach Kampmann was shocked and delighted by the surprising victory over the Venice Gondoliers as the Warriors claimed the Western league title.

CITY PLAY-OFFS

Uni	64	Wilson	60

For the fifth consecutive year, Uni's Girls' Basketball team had an outstanding season. Having two sophomores starting and seven returning players, the team advanced to the city play-offs. With the new gym finished the team finally played on their own courts when Uni captured the Western League 2nd place. The loss to arch rival Crenshaw cut short the opportunity for first in league. During the quarter-finals the loss to El Camino Real dropped them from the City Crown. Leading scorers were Marci Blackman 18 points, Wendy Elvord 11, and Pam Siu 10. Coach Lange summed it up by saying, "We had a good season and I am hopeful that next year will be just as promising."

This season, as in the past, proved to be a successful one for the girls J.V., team. Led by Ayako Shono, a junior, the Warriors compiled an 8-2 league mark and an overall record of 10-3. The girls' eight wins were virtually one-sided contests; the smallest margin of victory being five points. Coach Judy Lange's emphasis of Positive Mental Attitude (PMA) helped the teams' confidence. Coach Lange was very pleased with the performance of the team and expects another good season next year.

GIA Tennis

Once again the GIA Tennis proved that UNI girls are winners. The team went into the city play-offs in the second place Western-League position behind Palisades. The team of Susan Bell and Lisa Leffler made the only UNI-Pali victory of the season, pulling out ahead in a hard-fought match to win 8-6. At the city quarter finals UNI faced the solid Carson team and was defeated despite some good tries. UNI captain Linda Schultz and Lisa Leffler pulled out one set for UNI 6-2. The girls finished the city play-offs as one of the top 8 teams. The excitement of UNI's success was heightened by the fact that only 3 of last year's 11 varsity players were returning, and UNI's initial hopes for victory were not high. Two players who deserve recognition for excellent records this year are Linda Katz and Kim Richards who helped to make UNI tennis a real winner.

Now, this was a team that had problems. The new gym floor warped after the first week of play. The Pali game was "rained out" by a ventilation failure that caused the floor to become as slippery as a playground slide. And on the team itself there was no player over 6'1". Give up? Certainly not. Coach Anderson had to put up with the mechanical problems, but for his midget varsity he concocted a whole new offense featuring a slashing aggressive style of play. This team went on to beat the number one ranked team in the city, Manual by 17 points. Speedy guard David Wexler averaged 25 points per game to lead the scorers while Marc Segal was using his 6'1" to pull down rebounds from taller opponents. Dylan Gerber stood out on defense, and from the bench the efforts of Mike Binder and Derek Jarvis filled in.

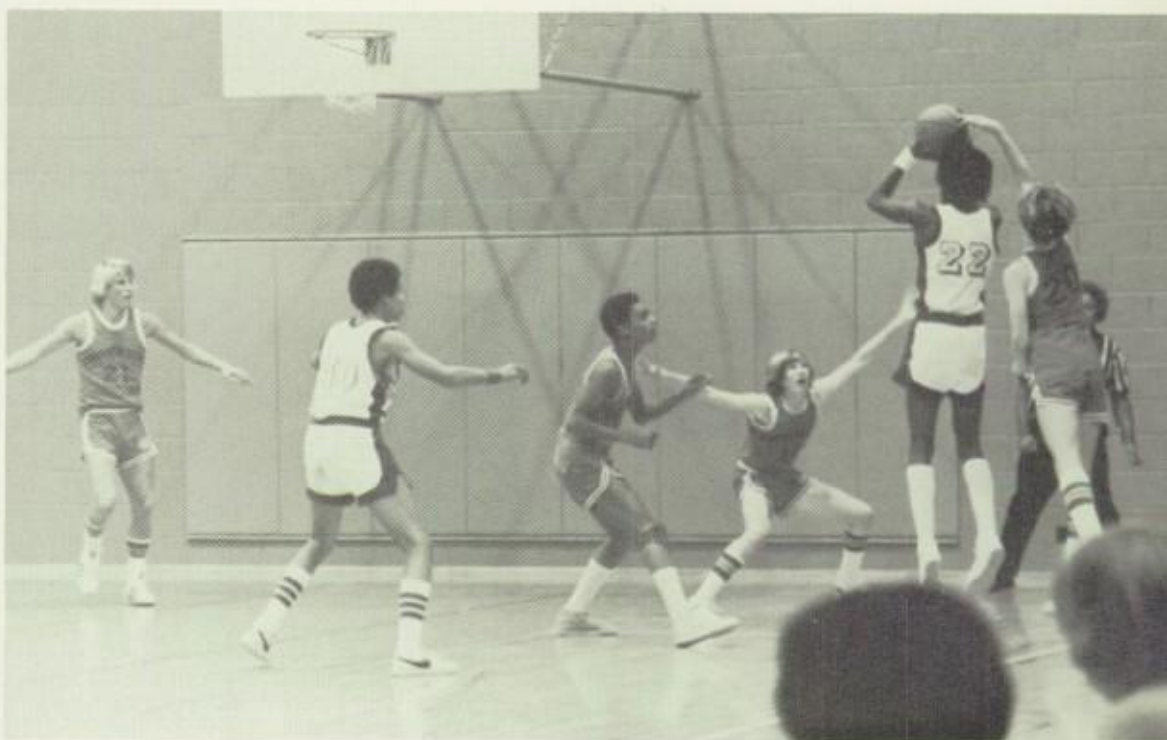

Junior Varsity

ROW 1: Jon Bausley, Peter Wertheimer, Mark Bragg, Derek Morris ROW 2: Eric Pitt, Doug Carasso, Chris Holland, David White, Ed Zarcoff, Paris Wright, Salvador Mercado

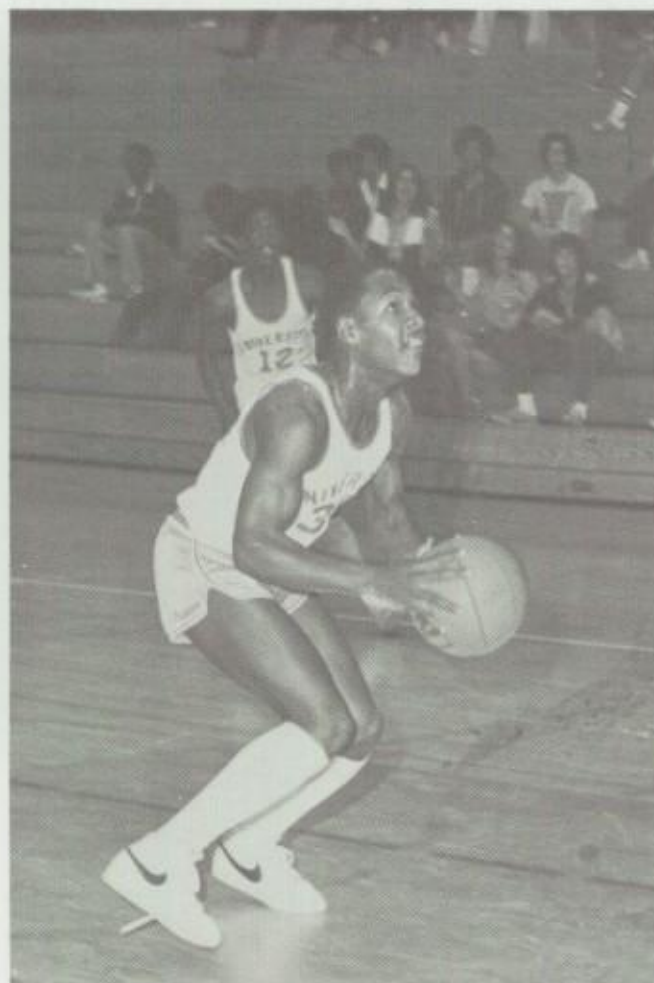

In having three players at a six-three height, this year's J.V. team was able to set up a traditional offense and defense and make it work to produce what Coach Anderson has called his best JV squad in six or seven years. Eric Pitt, a tenth grader, provided much of the offensive punch and rebounding skill. The floor leader and unselfish assist man was Jonathon Bausley. Coach Anderson credits some of the success to his assistant, Rich Arnolt. Having a home court advantage for one half of the games was an asset, as well, after previous years of all road games.

Although one can cite outstanding individual performances like the leadership of Captain Paul Burke or the deadly outside shooting of Richie Cabe, this Bee team can better be characterized by its team efforts. In a very satisfying win over Palisades, ten men saw duty. Perhaps the rigors of having to practice most days out of doors welded the team into a strong willed unit. Charles Brown, Reza Safavi and Cabe typified the good attitude that produced that team effort.

Cee's

A team has to be tough to hang in there and pull out those last second victories. Several times the Cee's parted the nets with virtually no time on the clock. Rhett Kawamura did it with four seconds to go against Hami; Bruce Swann did it against Dorsey; and Eugene Kokado dashed the hopes of Westchester with no time left. Backing them up were Sterling Forbes as the leading scorer and rebounder and Mario McCall as the player with a really solid team attitude. Gregory Norwood provided floor leadership. The fine attitude of the team as a whole can be cited in the fact that they often got together on their own for extra practices.

VARSITY

Row 1- Nora Garabed, Merry Tokugawa, Lynn Rangel, Ann Peterson, Kate Dow, Carol Tanney, Lynn Miyake, Dafa Wu, Julie Nagano, Miki Gasselin, Fran Shapiro, Kumiko Okuhama, (manager)

With Nora Garabed the only returnee from last year's team, which had played over two years together, the varsity season was a disappointing one. In a league with city powers Westchester and Palisades, the ladies found even Venice a stiff opponent, losing twice to them. Even their hopes for playing in the new gym were dashed when it was found the proper net anchors had not been installed, forcing them to play all games away. The J.V.'s fared better, tying for third with Venice.

Dance Production

After a seven year absence, dance production returned to Uni. With the building program providing a new theatre, the class eagerly prepared for its big event, the May fourth concert showcasing the many talents of the troupe. The next big step may be to recruit some male members. Before the destruction of the old auditorium, the class had begun to catch on as an activity for both sexes even in those unenlightened days of more stereotyped sex roles.

Row 1-Candace Jones, Frances Freeman, Row 2 Valerie Holmes, Lisa Teasley. Row 3-Robin Cottle, Amy Briscoe, Hillary Kaplan, Pauline Parks, Hisako Muramatsu, Debbie Kahn, Leisha Stroud, Liz Garneau.

Amidst the excitement and action that surrounds Uni's athletic teams is the hard work of the somewhat neglected Managers' Class. Thanks to those who are really school spirited, the class is an invaluable asset to organized sports. They perform such tasks as marking the field, setting up the equipment and the most desired job in the class, timing the performances. Coach La Rue unhesitatingly claims, "This year's class is the best ever. They don't have to be reminded of anything."

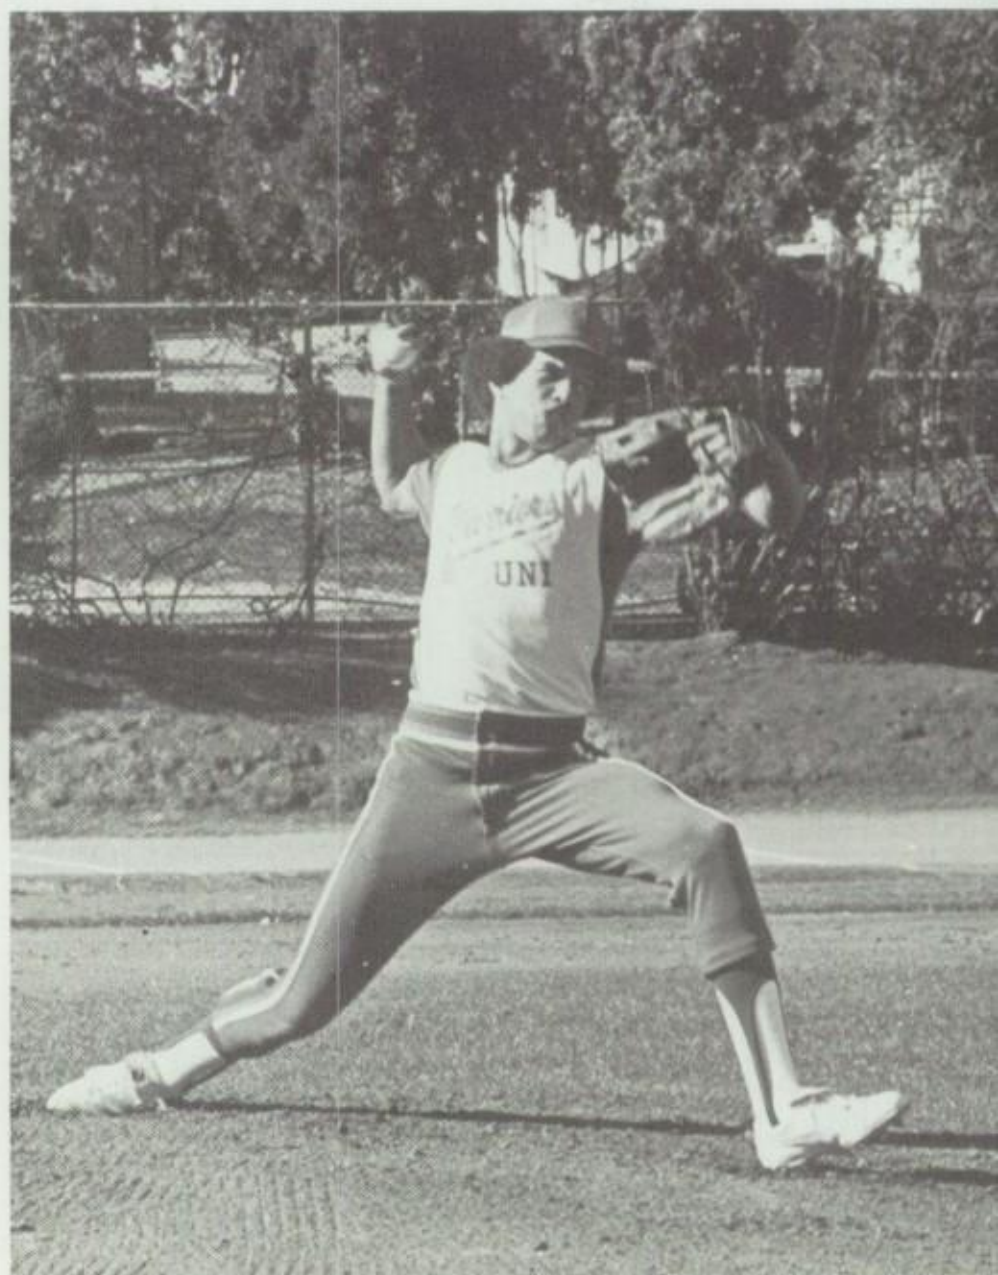

Varsity Baseball

Managers Tammy Woods, Bill Shakin, Lucy Denny

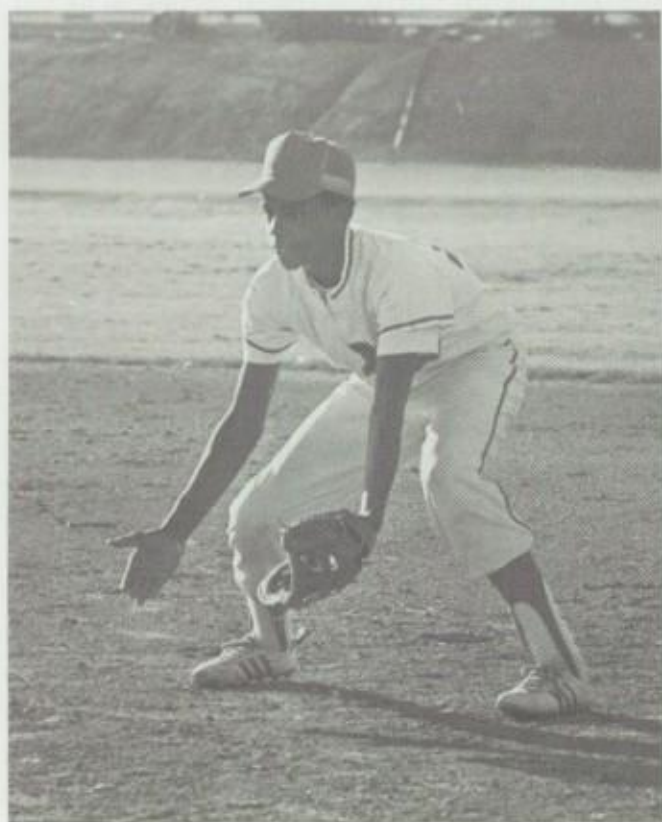

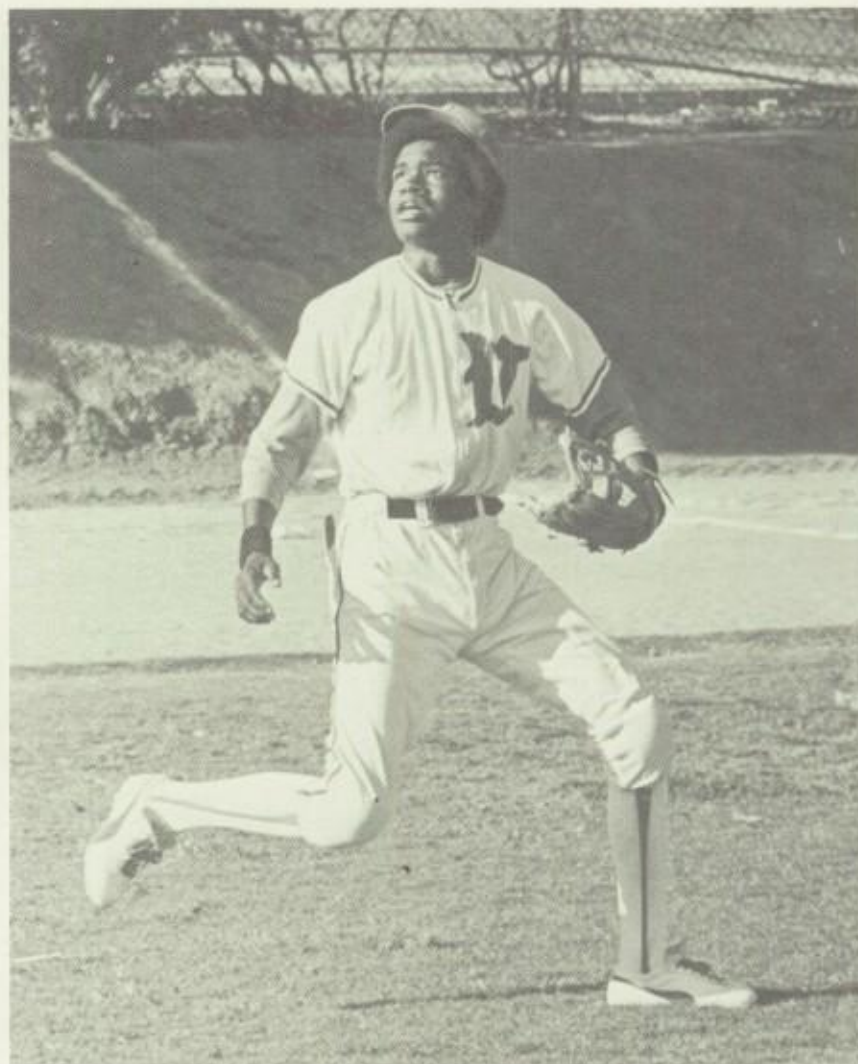

With eleven returnees and two potential all league players, Roy Nakabara and Chris Curry, the varsity baseballers had much to be hopeful for at the outset of the season. Strong in pitching, the club saw its top moundsmen (Damon Farmar, Rich Whelan and Brian Simon) combine for an early season no hit effort. As well the clutch hitting of Brent Edwards was welcome relief to the difficulties that a lot of early injuries offered.

Despite many obstacles, the Uni Swim Team manages to triumph. One problem Uni swimmers face is the lack of a nearby pool. The 45 mile round trip discourages potentially good swimmers from joining the team. "Uni Swimmers are hard workers", said coach Newman. "We start slow, but finish very well. Most of our swimmers swim farther everyday than they walk. A veteran varsity team led by Chris Moreno, a school record holder, featured seniors Neal Barnett, Grant Lipscomb and Jim Klaurin, Susie White, the school's top girl swimmer also makes some big splashes of her own. The season got off to a promising start when eleven of the 21 Uni relays teams qualified for the finals at the Venice Relays. Although they managed only an overall fifth place finish, their efforts were applauded by Coach Newman as encouraging after only nine days in training.

Varsity

After a plague of rainouts, the varsity girls got off to a fine start with a 15-8 thumping of Venice. Thus their status as a contender for a city title seemed realistic. In Sue Bullough, they boast a genuine all-city candidate. The Jayvees, almost all sophs, are building for next year. Coach Peter looks hopefully to the future efforts of Edie O'Neil on the mound and the infield skills of Elaine Shimomaye and Lucia Small.

Volleyball

Competing in perhaps the toughest league in the state, Uni's young volleyball squad will have to gain a lot of experience to challenge the powers of Playa Del Rey and Malibu beaches (Westchester and Palisades). The two young coaches, Freeman and Feinberg, are alumni of Uni squads of a few years back, recalling some of the glory days. Two sophomores, Jon Ross and Sami El Bayar represent the hope of the future as they start on the varsity six. Tall for a tenth grader and hoping to grow more, Jon is able to catapult above the net and send volleys smashing back to the opposition. Brennan Huntington and Brian Davis will also return to show how much this team can learn from a little experience.

Administration

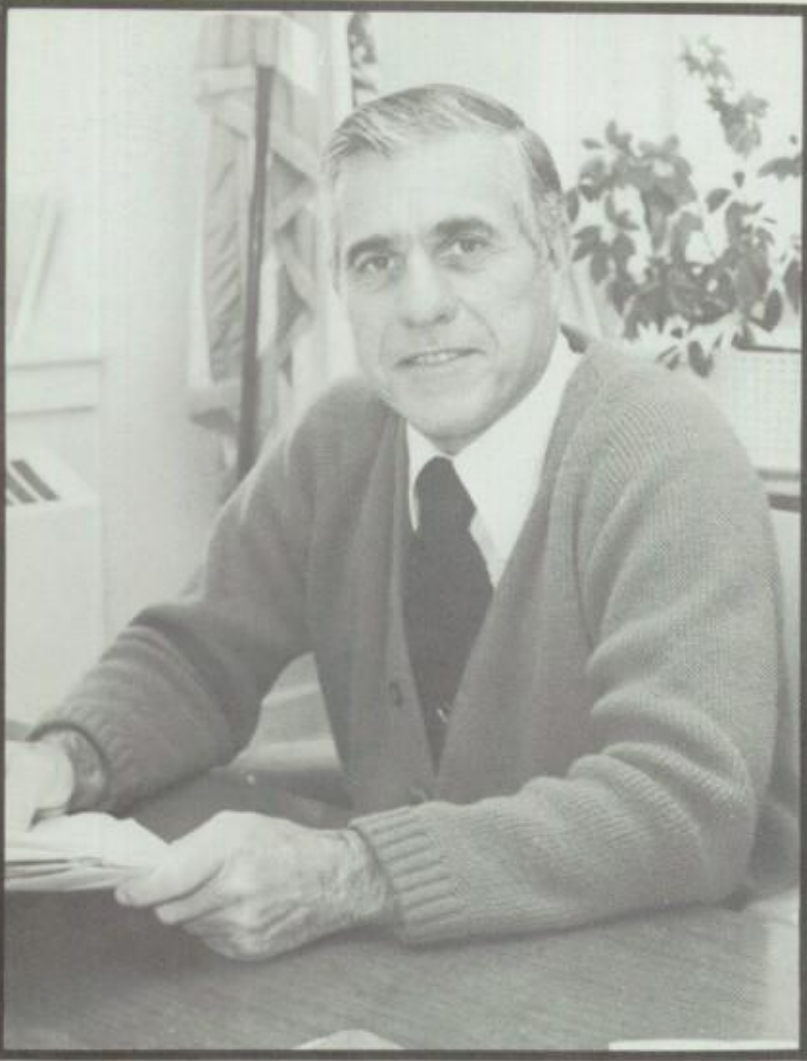

To the unknowing and unobservant, a high school may seem to automatically function with teachers teaching, students studying and administrators administering—each group going in a separate and only somewhat related way. But for those who are perceptive, it is easy to understand the need for each one to fulfill his or her special function in a qualitative fashion. All of the pieces must fit together in a smooth and orderly pattern to make the whole effort efficient and effective. Knowing one's job and accepting the responsibility connected with it are the essential ingredients necessary for success.

The students' role is fairly clearly defined—study, learn, prepare for a contributing role in the adult world. The teachers' role is also reasonably well understood—teach, challenge students' minds, give them the intellectual and vocational experiences they will need to grow into the world in which they will compete. The reason that a school exists revolves around the classroom and the learning environment therein. To be a quality school there must be quality teaching at the classroom level. The administrator fulfills the unique role of providing necessary and required support and direction to the learning environment. From the principal who has the responsibility for the entire operation to each sub administrator who coordinates the many details of specific support services, a breakdown in these important functions must necessarily impede or negate the learning process. For who can teach or learn without textbooks, supplies, equipment, a classroom that is properly cleaned and equipped, some organization to budget, finance, place orders, replace lost or broken parts, and the many, many smaller tasks that require time, expertise, and in most cases, much patience.

The administrative structure at Uni is achieved by a clear definition of duties. One assistant principal coordinates everything related to student activities, administrative services, staff development and student integration. Another assistant principal is responsible for plant management, the athletic program, the building program, and all equipment. The administrative dean handles attendance matters, supervision and pupil disciplinary problems. The director of counseling and guidance manages all aspects related to the master program, room assignments, and counseling and guidance functions. Altogether it is a team effort directed at building the best teaching and learning environment that is possible to create under existing circumstances of budget limitations.

A counselor is more than just a person who programs students. There are ten counselors at Uni that not only help a student plan his or her program, but also help a student iron out personal problems, whether these problems originate at home or at school; to help a student plan for his academic future, help a student who is having learning problems, and to help a student plan for his professional future. These last two counseling functions are the responsibility of two specialized counselors, the Resource Specialist, Miss Marcia Seegan, and Miss Linnea Reames, the Career Advisor, respectively. A counselor is also there to sit down and share a good joke with, or to hear how marvelous your English teacher is, or how well you're doing in Study Hall. After all, it's rather depressing hearing nothing but complaints all day.

To help see that the over three million dollar total school budget is well spent, one must look not only to the teaching staff but to the other employees (referred to by the school district as "classified personnel"). Even with severe cutbacks in custodial service, there are 17 fulltime custodians, some working mornings and others coming in as school closes. The variety of other skilled jobs provide for services that directly affect the students' welfare: record keeping, book distribution, and the all-important candy and soda pop supply in the student store.

Faculty 1978-79

Every high school age person has had to hear numerous adults proclaim, "My, my! How you've changed." Well, we find that our faculty members can be recognized for having "grown up" as well. The old photos in this section have been taken from the faculty members likenesses in earlier editions of the Chief-tain.

Autograph Memories

Tommy,
 I'm really and glad that you and I became friends. You have the prettiest blue eyes.
 You're really a super person to have for a friend. Please keep in touch. Maybe we can do something over the summer.
 Give me a call (473-3154)
 I love you lots,
 Love,
 Kathi

Dear Tommy-

What a great year we had with tri-school and all.
 I'm really happy I met you and hope we will always be as close especially in Uni.
 Have a great summer!
 I'll have to visit you at Carl's.

Love Always Eileen
 P.S. Give me a call
 Sometime (552-1032)

Tomasini-
you are my favorite favorite person. I love being with you.
I think were closer now than we've ever been. The great thing about our relationship is that we never have to worry about hurting each other we know when each other is kidding.

I hope that makes sense.

I don't know how I lived without you at Uni and I'm certain I would have died without you in Tri-school, you were the only ungeeky person. I hope we see a lot of each other this summer.
I can't wait for the Rod Stewart concert. This summer you're gonna have so many girlfriends I'm gonna be so jealous. We're gonna drive down somewhere with your new car w/ a bunch of people and get rowdy this summer. I gotta get you more rowdy this summer.
I love you so much, don't ever forget me cuz I'll never forget you! Love ya forever-never.
Ands

Tomasini!!!

I love you! You are like my first friend in Benedict Canyon and since we first saw each other our friendship kept blooming till now. I don't know if we can become much closer. No, we can always become closer and I know we will.
At times we are not as close as others but whenever we see each other the gap is gone and it's like time never went by.
This summer I hope we spend at the beach club!

I love you
Tommy,

Marge

 Really, there are no words to express what you are to me. You are truly
